Seen & Heard Around Murray

Laffer in the morning mail from Joe Berry telling us the front page notice we carried yesterday about needing a ride for a disabled veteran did the work.

The disabled veteran is now on his way.

We're glad to help out.

T. O. Turner brought in a picture of his father yesterday that was about one and a half feet wide and about two feet high.

It was made when he was a prisoner of the Yanks at the time. That was when we were in several years back.

J. J. Turner was his name and he was a member of the 8th Kentucky Regiment, Co. B. He was captured at Fort Donelson and was eighteen years old at the time.

That was in the year 1862.

The picture was in excellent condition and was very plain. We don't know how come it was so big, but it was a good picture.

Mr. Turner was sporting a haircut that has since gone out of style.

He died in 1893.

Mr. Key, pardon, Mr. Maddox was in this morning to pay a bill. In addition to paying bills, he also makes keys.

We have never seen such a mob of kids as we have this week down at the Baptist church. About 250 gathered there each morning about eight o'clock and we add a couple more on our way to work.

The children thoroughly enjoy the school, but we imagine that the instructors are about ready to call it a day by the time 11:00 o'clock comes.

Riding the bus home is a great treat for the kids. They are used to riding in our car where they are packed in. About the only difference probably is that more kids are packed in a bigger space, but it is different anyway.

This date last year: The Supreme Court upheld the conviction of 11 Communist leaders under the Smith Act.

This date in history: A shepherd discovered Roanoke's cave near Roanoke, France, in 1070. Clarence Chamberlin and Charles Levine began their flight from Minnola, New York, to Esteban, Germany, in 1927. Winston Churchill made his famous "We Shall Never Surrender" speech in 1940. The Battle of Midway was fought in 1942, and the allies took Rome, in 1944.

Fulton Downs Madisonville In Race For Lead

A two-run triple by Bill Bickel with two out in the ninth inning gave the Kitty League leading Fulton Lookouts a 2 to 1 victory over Madisonville last night, increasing Fulton's lead to three full games and dropping the Miners from second to third place.

Don Menner pitched five-hit ball for the Lookouts to win, but he was a beaten pitcher until Bickel came up with that last-ditch triple.

Owensboro also won a last-ditch victory to take second place, edging Mayfield, 7 to 6, when Mayfield manager Red Barrett hit a batter with the bases loaded to force in the winning run.

Mayfield had a 5 to 2 lead when the ninth inning started, but three hits, three walks, an error and that hit batsman turned the tide. Hopkinsville piled up 11 runs in the first three innings, and went on to a 16 to 4 win over Jackson that boosted the Hopkeys all the way from sixth place to fourth, over Jackson and Union City. Ray Selek scattered eight Jackson hits for the win.

Walter Dyko pitched his third victory of the season, all of them shutouts, as Paducah trampled Union City, 13 to 0. He yielded only four hits.

Eisenhower Gains On Taft In Latest Southern State Primary

General Eisenhower, still in strength, former governor George Nickelson, an Eisenhower man, says a gain of only 10 votes each in the missing precincts will swing the victory to Eisenhower. Taft backers, although their candidate is leading, have shied away from victory claims. And it appears that final results in the tightly-fought race for 14 GOP national convention delegates plus prestige value will not be known for sure until later today. Some observers even speculate it may be tomorrow before the victor's name could be announced.

But the Democratic primary in South Dakota is all sewed up. Senator Kefauver has defeated a 1938 record in the last convention ballot to Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota. Late returns give Kefauver 19,781 votes to 10,301 votes for the Humphrey slate. It means eight convention votes for Kefauver.

At the same time, Kefauver won the democratic primary in California and Governor Earl Warren is the victor on the Republican side.

Kefauver picked up California's 68 Democratic convention votes by defeating a ticket headed by attorney-general Edmund Brown. He turned from some 11,000 of the state's 19,000 odd precincts give Kefauver 539,592 votes to 233,089 for Brown.

Warren's victory gives him California's 70 Republican convention votes. He defeated a slate headed by Congressman Thomas Werdell. Warren has piled up 496,493 votes to 223,441 for Werdell.

Neither Taft or Eisenhower were entered in the California primary. But Taft backers called on voters cast their ballots for Werdell and Eisenhower supporters urged votes favoring the General to vote for Warren.

IKKE TURNS OVER NATO COMMAND TO RIDGWAY

WHILE THEIR WIVES LOOK ON at left, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, 61, retiring commander, and his successor, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, 57, salute the colors at the change-of-command ceremonies on the grounds of SHAPE, the NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organization) headquarters outside Paris. Eisenhower told Ridgway: "I leave with the certainty we can meet any challenge." (International Radiophoto)

Central City Labor Disturbance Spoken Of By Leader

The president of district 50 of the United Mine Workers' union has come up with some sharp words in connection with the dispute between the union and small businessmen in Central City, Ky. District 50 chief A. D. Lewis spoke in Washington after accusations from the businessmen that the UMW is pushing people around in its Central City organizing drive.

Some people have described the dispute as a life-or-death struggle as far as Central City business is concerned. Business has been hampered and, twice, the dispute has caused violence.

Once, a merchant was beaten during a union demonstration. Last week, a union organizer's car was blown up while the organizer was attending a meeting.

Lewis says district 50 is doing no more in Central City than in at least 200 other cities. "We're out to organize anybody who wants to be organized," he says. "That's our business. But it seems there are always employers who don't want a union."

He goes on to say, "We don't push people around. District 50 is a peaceful union. But we don't let anybody push us around. None of our boys have guns, although the store owners do. No store owners' cars have been blown up."

The Cincinnati Reds are sending infielder John Temple to Tulsa of the Texas League on 24-hour recall to make room for outfielder Mayor Elmer Robinson and pitcher from the Boston Braves last night.

Britain And U. S. Protest To Rhee

Great Britain has joined the United States in a diplomatic protest against President Syngman Rhee's plans in South Korea. Five other UN members are preparing to join the protest, aimed against Rhee's plans to dissolve the South Korean assembly, which is strongly opposed to Rhee. Earlier, President Truman sent Rhee a firm note expressing shock and amazement of the South Korean situation. Mr. Truman urged Rhee to withhold any final action until American ambassador John Muccio returns to Korea. Muccio had been on vacation in the United States, but was ordered by President Truman to return to Korea at once.

Rhee has accepted Mr. Truman's advice and says he will put aside his plans to dissolve the assembly for a few days. The lawmakers have been scheduled to vote for a new constitution by June 23rd and Rhee is almost certain to be defeated. He has demanded a change in the election procedure to put the presidency up to popular vote. But the assembly is opposed.

It has been paralyzed for two days for lack of a quorum. Supporters of Rhee have failed to appear and many opposition assemblymen have also been absent, allegedly because of fear of reprisal by Rhee. However, the South Korean president denies he is terrorizing the assembly.

GOLDEN GATE PARK TO GET REDWOODS

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—San Francisco's Golden Gate Park is to have the first and only redwood grove in the world containing all known species of the tree, the Redwood Empire Association announced.

The grove's first tree, a rare Cunningham evergreen of China, has already been presented to Mayor Elmer Robinson and planted in the park.

It was the gift of W. Warren Anderson, of Kentfield, Calif., who explained it was generally believed that the only existing redwoods are the Coast, Sierra and Dawn redwoods.

He pointed out the existence of other related redwoods: the giant Cryptomeria of Japan, the Arbutus of Tasmania, the Umbrella "Pine," the Bald "Cypress," the Chinese Swamp Redwood and several other species.

50,000 MILES ENOUGH. NEWSBOY DECIDES. BALLARAT, Australia (UP)—Les Thompson, 55, has walked 50,000 miles and worn out 96 pairs of boots over the last 16 years in bringing the news of the world to the people of Clunes, a township near here.

"That's twice around the world, and that's enough for any man," Thompson said. "Now I'm going to retire."

Every day of the week except Sunday, for Victoria has no Sunday newspaper, Thompson walked a newspaper delivery round that took him over 10 miles of hills and dales in Clunes.

Each year he wore out half a dozen pairs of army issue boots.

Jury Refuses To Indict Principal Of School

PADUCAH, June 4 (UP)—The superintendent of McCracken County schools at Paducah says the county school board thinks the principal of the Lone Oak school was right in punishing four boys. The youths were suspended by principal John Robinson from the Lone Oak school two weeks before it closed for the summer May 28th. The youths had been charged with setting fire to the seats in a school bus.

County school superintendent Henry Chambers says Robinson was within his rights in giving the boys a paddling. The boys' parents have charged "that the Lone Oak principal slapped their sons in the face."

The McCracken County grand jury has refused to indict Robinson for disciplining the boys and has refused to issue assault warrant against him. Chambers terms the case no different from other disciplinary actions taken against unruly students by county school officials.

Chambers says "we are still disciplining children in McCracken County." He adds that the parents have the right to ask for a hearing before the school board on Robinson's action, but that they have not done so.

The superintendent says he has refused a request of the boys' parents for them to be allowed to enter another school in McCracken County.

Surgeons Convinced Ten Year Old Boy Will Recover

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UP)—Surgeons who performed a difficult operation on a 10-year-old Maysville, Kentucky, boy say they are convinced he will recover.

Billy Varvill, who "placed his faith in Jesus and the doctors," also is convinced he will make the grade to talk and play like other youngsters his age.

Billy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Varvill, took him to a Cincinnati hospital after reading that a rare operation had been performed there on a child's heart. They were hoping something could be done for their son, who was ailing and never had walked.

After many examinations doctors inserted a fine plastic tube into the vein of Billy's arm. They worked at it to his heart and confirmed their fears that the valves of his heart were obstructed and blood could not circulate freely through the body.

They told the boy's parents that Billy must have an operation or death might come in six months.

Plans Completed To Entertain North-South Cagers, Visitors

Again the townspeople of Murray and the students, staff and faculty of Murray State College are preparing to roll out the welcome mat for the participants in the annual North-South all-star basketball game to be played here this year Saturday night, June 14.

J. Matt Sparkman, dean of students at Murray State College and chairman of the entertainment committee for the North-South cage classic, in cooperation with the people of Murray, has set up a full week of entertainment.

Working the entertainment around an already busy schedule of practice makes for a full week's program. The 24 players and four coaches will arrive in Murray June 8 and will be quartered in Oxford houses on the Murray State campus. Sunday night they will be treated to picture shows at the downtown theaters.

Conferences Take Place On Steel Issue

Conferences on the steel strike take place in two cities today—New York and Washington.

In New York, officials from 11 big steel companies meet to discuss strategy that probably will result in a move to open negotiations with the CIO United Steelworkers. It is believed that conference between management officials and Philip Murray's CIO Union may be held in New York or Pittsburgh on Friday—but by that time nearly one hundred thousand workers outside the steel industry are expected to be idle, not including the 650,000 steelworkers now out on strike.

In Washington, defense production administrator Henry Ford has warned that the output of secret-military weapons will be hurt if the strike lasts more than four or five days—but Chairman of the Senate Banking Committee Burnet Maybank hopes to get some action before then. The South Carolina Democrat wants to tack an amendment to the controls bill which comes up for debate in the Senate this morning—and Maybanks idea is to create a special arbitration board with enough power to settle the steel strike.

Another Democrat—Senator Hubert Humphrey from Minnesota—says he will fight against a provision of the controls bill that would strip the wage stabilization board of its powers. Humphrey will try to retain the present authority of the WSB to settle wage disputes, and it looks like Maybank's plan for a special board will meet opposition from his own party as well as the Republicans—led by Robert Taft.

Taft has warned he will lead a GOP fight against any Democratic attempts to jam through special legislation to get steel production going again. Taft—who heads up the Senate Republican policy committee—feels that no special strike arbitration machinery should be created until the Taft-Hartley Act and all other existing laws are tried.

Iron Age, the news organ of the steel industry, says manufacturers of industries should be able to ride out a steel strike if it lasts no more than two or three weeks. Most manufacturers it says, have an operating inventory ranging between two and six weeks. However, some spot shortages may develop, and also some shortages in particular types of steel which could tie up some industries for lack of certain parts.

Another publication, the National Metalworking weekly, says the automotive industry "appears" to have enough steel on hand for about four or five weeks of production.

Ronald E. Burke Now On Front Lines

Set Ronald E. Burke son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Burke, arrived in Korea May 4. He is a member of 23rd regiment of the 40th Infantry Division and is a squad leader on the front lines.

Mr. Burke says he is doing fine. He will be on the front lines as the enemy had caught some of the UN guards asleep on this hill and killed them just before he arrived there.

Monday, June 9, an all-campus dance in the Fine Arts lounge on the Murray State campus beginning at 7:45 p.m. will bring the all-stars and students at the college together.

A fish fry in the shelter house at Kentucky Lake State Park at 6 p.m. Tuesday, June 10, for players, coaches and commission workers will follow an afternoon of swimming and speed boat rides on the lake beginning at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday has been set aside for full practice sessions arranged by the squads' coaches.

At noon Thursday, June 12, players and coaches will be guests at a joint meeting of Murray civic clubs in the Murray Woman's club house. At 4 p.m. the same day the Young Business Men's club of Murray will take the visitors to Mayfield, Kentucky, where they will be guests at a barbecue at the Mayfield Country Club at 6 p.m. and guests of the Mayfield Chamber of Commerce at a Kitty League baseball game at 8:15 p.m.

Friday, June 13, has been left open for full practice sessions, with the 5:30 to 6:15 period set aside for the players to meet and eat with their parents in the dining hall at Murray State College. Saturday morning at 9 a.m. a motorcade will leave downtown Murray for a tour of Kentucky Lake State Park and Kentucky Dam. After lunch at 12:30 the motorcade will return to Murray at 1:15 p.m.

A reception in the Fine Arts lounge at 3 p.m. the same afternoon for players, coaches, parents, families and other visitors, will be followed by a buffet supper at 5 p.m. for invited guests of the Murray Woman's club in their club house.

Elaborate pre-game ceremonies will get underway at 8 p.m. in Carr gym on the Murray State campus with the game following immediately afterwards.

Castle E. Parker Receives Degree At St. Louis

Castle E. Parker, of Murray, received the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery from St. Louis University School of Dentistry at Commencement Exercises yesterday.

Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, director of the Department of Trusteeship, United Nations, and winner of the 1950 Nobel Peace Prize, delivered the address at the 134th Commencement Exercises held Tuesday, June 3, in St. Louis' Kiel Auditorium.

Total number of degrees conferred this year is 1650. Persons receiving degrees this year included graduates from 40 states and eight places outside the United States.

Mrs. Keen Johnson Injured In Wreck

LEXINGTON, June 4 (UP)—The wife of a former Kentucky governor, Mrs. Keen Johnson, is under treatment in a Lexington hospital for injuries received yesterday in an automobile accident near Vanclevburg.

Mrs. Johnson suffered cuts and bruises, but is reported in good condition. The former governor received a minor cut on his knee when the car he was driving overturned. The Johnsons were en route from their home in Richmond, Kentucky, to White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia.

Inquiring Reporter

QUESTION: There has been a report made that with adequate modern lighting the accident toll would be cut to less than one-fourth, what is your opinion on this?

ANSWERS: Mrs. Harry Shellen: I'm not well read on it, but I believe that is right. I think it would cut the traffic accidents a lot.

Mrs. William Furell: I don't know if it could be cut that much, it might though, because if anyone can't see well of course, they are a lot more apt to have a wreck.

Clyde Farris: If they had good lights and they would use their dimmers, I think so.

Van Valenite: I'm sure it would be cut a whole lot. I wouldn't say whether it would be those exact figures or not.

Mrs. Forrest Outland: I believe it would, good lights on a car, make lots of difference.

Premature babies still have a very poor chance of survival but specially equipped hospitals are saving many of them.A bulletin from the hospital council of New York tells the story. A survey for 1949 showed that more than 95 per cent of tiny premature babies died in the first month. But the mortality rate among those taken to hospitals with special equipment was only 70 per cent.The agriculture department announces it will increase research on the air-sac disease which has been ravaging poultry farms in Delaware, Maryland, Georgia and some other states since last fall.Almost 25 per cent of the broiler chickens were stricken in some Maryland poultry areas. The disease kills or stunts the birds. As the name implies, it strikes their respiratory systems. It cause has not been discovered.Urban G. Starks

The BOOK of the CRIME
by ELIZABETH DALY

Copyright, 1951, by Elizabeth Daly. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

When Gray Austen divorced his wife, Rena, holding a slim paper-bonded book in her hand, he became so furious that she fled the house in terror. She managed to reach Henry Gamadge, a noted biographer, who on her bearing the story of her life to him, he took her to his home. Why she asks Mr. Gamadge, did the story of some ancient crime, so terribly disturbing to old books with the great authority on old books and the great secret and Gray and his marriage. She and Gray had been many enough in their old and grown house until his brother and sister, Jerome and Mildred, came from the west to join them. But, they had come at Gray's own bidding. While they chat young Ordway, a neighbor, drops in. He tells her that Rena, but Gamadge points out that the identification of any young gentleman calling on a missing wife may cause trouble for that wife. Caution is the watch word now!

CHAPTER NINE

"HELLO GRAM," Ordway sat down opposite her and got out his pipe.

"Is that child all right, Norris?"

"Fine. Settled for the present."

He began to laugh. "Seems that my baby nurse is on holiday, and they've got her in the cap and veil and uniform."

"How clever?"

"Wouldn't have recognized her myself at first if I'd met her pushing the go-cart."

"It relieves me to know that she's getting out into the air, she's been looking very pale lately, and she's lost weight in the last months."

"They're a little worried about our being seen beating it away."

"You aren't seen. That very disagreeable-looking maid of theirs didn't come to the front door and investigate until you were around the corner and out of my sight."

He was relieved when I saw your car, because by that time the others were all out in the vestibule."

"What I mean, Gram, they—Gamadge and his wife—seem to be cooking up some idea of a divorce for her."

"Naturally."

"And if I got into the picture they seem to think it might gum the works a little."

"It might. How about that door?"

"He didn't see her."

"They don't wish to pursue the acquaintance, Norris?"

"I'm supposed to know them."

"Very simple. They must know something to the disadvantage of the same husband. I thought he looked depressed when he came out to walk the little dog. It seems very sad. That brother—his living image of his father, poor old Charles Austen's elder brother, you know."

"What was that story, anyhow?"

He added: "Dad mentioned something last night."

"Something about money, he was quietly pushed out the Stock Exchange."

"Thought they had plenty of"
